I would like to start using an online classroom centre called Edmodo. It has been developed especially for use in schools. I can post assignments and messages to the whole class or to one student alone. Students can communicate with each other, earn badges, keep a personal calendar of upcoming events and many other useful features. Some class members have already signed up and have been using it. It is important to note that I am in control of the group and can see all messages and replies and students will have to abide by a code of conduct or be blocked for a period of time. Mr Anderson is aware of Edmodo and is also keen to join our group. If you are happy for me to sign your child up and give them a password, please send back this note. I will be sending home more information about how it works and the benefits we can expect. Thanks Anne Whitty.

I give permission for ________________ to join Edmodo group 3/4W. Signed ________________
